BOWLING GREEN STATE COLLEGE, MAY 15, 1935

No. 33

MEN'S GLEE CLUB PERFORM WELL

The excellent performance of the Mens' Glee Club under the direction of Prof. Fauley, May 6, has been much commended. This was the first appearance of the group. The polish of their singing was well set off by their formal dress. The formal attire of the audience also lent a fitting atmosphere.

The program which they gave included:

Sacred Songs:

Dearest Jesus Draw Thou Near Me—

Schop

Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones

Creation's Hymn—Beethoven

Bless the Lord, O My Soul—Ippotelof

Ivanoff

Secular Songs:

Lamp in the West—Boratio Parker

Reveries—A. M. Storch

Valse Triste—Jean Sibelius

Fally ho—Franco Leoni

When I Know What You Know—Canon-Buch

Musical Trust—Joseph Clokey

Trumpet Trio

Three Kings—Walter Smith

Laurence Ringenberg, Howard Harger

Frank Kunkle

Marimbaphone Solo

Valse—Durand-Thompson

Frank Kunkle

Negro Songs

Tis Me—H. T. Burleigh

Po'Lil' Lamb—J. A. Parks

Quartet

Howdy Do Mis' Springtime—David Guion

King Jesus Is a Listenin'—William Dawson

Po'Ol' Lazarus—John Work

Now the Day Is Over

The trumpet trio and maribaphone numbers were so much applauded that each granted an encore. The trumpet trio brought the audience to its feet with the College hymn. Mr. Kunkle played "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise" as his encore.

Alumnus Dean of College

John J. Fuller, who graduated from this college in 1922, is now Director of Professional Training Head of the Department of Education at New Mexico State Teachers College, Silver City, New Mexico.

Mr. Fuller was reared a few miles north of Bowling Green. He received his Ph. D. from Ohio State in 1933. He has also taught at that school previous to his appointment.

COMMERCIAL CONTESTS HELD LAST SATURDAY

The largest Ohio State Commercial contests held here May 11 brought 388 high school students from all parts of the state to participate. Under the able management of Miss Ogle and Mr. Knepper the contests were successfully given and graded. The students of the Commercial Department were busy all day grading papers. At 7:00 o'clock in the evening the winners were announced and awards were made.

Mass contests in which the whole class took part were held in each school. In these Bowling Green won the novice division award and Lodi the amateur division award.

Placques were given to the schools which made the highest standing in the individual contests. The following were the schools which received the awards:

Class A, Greenville; Class B, Warren; Open, John Hay, Cleveland; Bookkeeping: Class I, Mt. Vernon; Class II, John Hay.

Those who won first place in the various divisions are: Typing: Open, novice, Susan Fabri, West Tech, Cleveland; Class A, novice, Kathryn Emerick, Greenville; Class B, novice, Lucille Wood, Warren; Open, amateur, Marjorie Esienegger, John Hay; Class A, amateur, Helen E. Galliers, Defiance; Class B, amateur, Betty Warwick, Montpelier; Open, special, Magdalen Vilesek, John Hay.

Bills Must Be Voted on By Senate Before May 16

The General Assembly will adjourn on May 16 and the coming week will determine whether the legislation pertaining to this college and Kent is to be consummated or not. A determined effort is being put forth to prevent the bills from getting into a legislative jam during the closing days of the legislature.

Inasmuch as they have been reported for passage by the Senate Committee on Education and their further consideration would demand nothing more than a vote, final action on these bills should take place before the adjournment.

TREBLE CLEF TO GIVE CONCERT SOON

Martha Ullery, president of the Treble Clef Club, announces that the Club's annual concert will be given Friday evening, May 17, in the auditorium of the Practical Arts Building. Under the direction of Irene Canary Mooers, the concert will begin promptly at 7:45, with Mary Copus as accompanist. Evelyn Wentz will be featured as soloist.

Junerose Bader Honored

Junerose Bader who received her two-year diploma in February has been chosen as one of the fourteen of the world to go to the Perkins Institute, Harvard, where she will be instructed further in teaching the blind. Besides this honor she has been granted a scholarship.

Miss Bader has always been nearly blind, but, despite her parent's efforts to shield her, she has insisted upon living a normal life. She attended Cleveland schools and was playground supervisor in that city. Her student teaching was done in the first and third grades of the Training School. She also donated extra time to instruct the third grade in music. Since February she has taught in the School for Blind and taken course sat Capital University, Columbus.

All of her friends are glad to hear of Junerose's honors and congratulate one so persistent against an overwhelming handicap.

NATURE-LORE*Migration Notes*

May 5—Blackthroated Green Warbler, Ovenbird, L. Waterthrush, Black and White Warbler, Yellow-throated Vireo, King Rail, Crested Flycatcher, Blacktern, in Huron and Erie Co.—D. V. W. and D. C. K.

May 8—Blackburnian Warbler, Scarlet Tanager in Wood Co.—R. B.; White-crowned Sparrow, Florida Gallinule in Erie Co.—M. E. F.

May 10—Warbling Vireo in Huron Co.—M. E. F.

May 11—Cerulean Warbler, Blue-winged Warbler, Chesnutsided Warbler, Blue-gray Gnatcatcher, Indigo Bunting, Least Flycatcher in Huron Co.—J. I. K. and D. C. K.

May 12—Wood Pewee, Whip-poor-will, Kingbird, White-eyed Vireo, Blue-headed Vireo, Red-eyed Vireo, Goldenwinged, Magnolia, Baybreasted, Nashville, and Tennessee Warblers, Northern Waterthrush, Redstart, Rose-breasted Grosbeak, in Huron and Erie Co.—M. E. F. and D. C. K.

The warm weather of the last week brought on a definite migration "wave". Despite the rain, this culminated on Sunday, May 12, when a total of 93 species were recorded, including 17 warblers. This report compares favorably with the best of 1934 which resulted in 94 species on May 13 of last year.

Last Sunday was easily the best "warbler day" for several years, the woods being literally inundated with these brilliantly-colored little migrants. D. C. K.

Musical Notes

The Mens' Glee Club put on its concert in Memorial auditorium at Wauseon, May 12. The program was the same as the one given here.

The Quartette and Trumpet Trio are scheduled to play for Commencement at Cygnet, May 16.

The orchestra concert will be given on May 21.

Prof. Church judged the woodwinds at the state final Solo and Ensemble contest at Oberlin, May 11.

Prof. Fauley was a judge at the interfraternity glee club contest at Wittenberg, May 13.

Mayor Bachman Explains Job

Alva W. Bachman, mayor of Bowling Green, described the job of mayor at assembly, May 8. The title is nice but there is a lot of responsibility with it. The organization of a new council into committees such as Finance, Health, Ways and Means, etc. was described in detail. The biggest job of a leader either of a city or a schoolroom is to get all the followers to think together in finding and acting upon the facts. Another big problem is to improve moral conditions by getting the people to join with the authorities in getting right conditions.

Mr. Bachman also told what he should do if he were to go to college again. He would first get acquainted with everyone for one never knows when a friend can lend a helping hand. Another suggestion was to read widely and much while there is the opportunity. He also suggested that he should be enthusiastic about some organization because the experience there are duplicated in life. He last said he would be human and not take himself too seriously.

All Senior and Graduating Sophomore pictures, campus scenes, and other photos must be handed in by Friday, May 12.

« « WE BEG TO REMARK » »

Did you ever pause to reflect that, neglecting natural phenomena, a savage race is more likely to perpetuate itself ad infinitum than the civilized race we now have? Civilization at this point seems to offer more curbing of the destructive and obstructive forces of Nature and at the same time but paltry efforts to curb human forces which are anti-social. Should this civilization dissolve, as the other civilizations have, it would certainly offer abundant proof to future ages of the harmfulness of Egotistic Civilization. When we reach the state where we think that our development of natural and human forces is about hotcha and the millenium, the debacle soon follows. Intelligent, searching cynicism and disbelief are important factors in advancement. Savage peoples do not have them and so do not use them for good or ill. This all boils down to the fact that Savagery is static, Civilization dynamic. Hence continuing to exist is less certain in the civilized state; and it is less important.

And speaking of savagery, what about wearing diamonds? Imitation diamonds can be made which are fully as beautiful to the unaided eye as the real thing. Yet people still wear diamonds. It never occurs to anyone to pin a thousand-dollar bill to his shirt-front. So somewhere in between love of beauty and possessive pride lies the compromise of wearing diamonds, a half-subterfuge inculcated in a social custom.

The Science Building became the Little-Hall-of-Science last Thursday and Friday. The exhibitors deserve high praise. It is encouraging to think that people are showing a desire for knowledge yet under cover of their love of being startled and awe-stricken. The evidence of this is being shown at all such demonstrations. Also favorable is the fact that the students themselves are impressed by the importance of their own knowledge. Let us hope that in the near future people will exhibit as much curiosity in reviewing social trends and social phenomena. After all, at this time these matters are just as important if not much more so.

It is not so pleasant to recall that some of our own students interrupted others' explanations during the exhibit to inflate their own importance, giving a bad impression to visitors.

Who Pilfered the Big Hand?

Who got careless and lost the big hand to the East clock in the Reading Room? For two weeks now the poor thing has attended but lamely to its duties. It is rather startling to look up for the time and find but one hand. In fact it is alarming—but an alarm clock that you can't tell time by is worthless.

So will whoever borrowed the hand please replace it before exams so that we won't be annoyed by its doleful single hand staring mournfully at us? Maybe you had a good reason for taking it, initiation requirement, allergy for clocks, or desire to find out what made it run; but after all, we need it more than you do, so please put it back.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION PLANS INTERESTING ACTIVITIES

Wakan Campfire Planned For Grads

The Women's Athletic Association is planning a campfire and vespers service, at which the graduating members of the organization will be entertained as guests. It will be held at 6:30 Sunday evening, May 26th, in the hills on the left of Brigham's lane at the end of West Wooster St.

This campfire for the graduates is new this year, and has been named "Wakan", an Indian word meaning "service."

Arrangements are in the hands of several committees, headed by the following people: Wanda DeMongeot, program; Mary Tate, invitations and publicity; Margaret Hurlburt, food; Anne Rimelspach, collections; Betty Boyer, general arrangements, and Dorothy Nantell, site.

The cost is twenty-five cents for non-graduating members, to cover the cost of foods; and this amount should be turned in to the Collection committee within two weeks.

Invitations are extended to all graduating members of the organization, whether seniors or graduating sophomores, to attend this campfire service.

Miss Shaw Wins Prize At Pittsburgh Convention

It seems like Christmas around the Women's Physical Education office. Packages of tennis racket, tennis balls, books, magazines, sweaters, archery set and many other things have been received by Miss Shaw. No—she did not get a raise in her salary. While in Pittsburgh she won first prize offered by the athletic supply houses. This consisted of fifty dollars in merchandise. After fifteen hundred people competed for the prize. Congratulations Miss Shaw.

W. A. A. Will Hold Overnight Hike

Members of W. A. A. are anxiously waiting for this week-end to come so that they may spend a week-end along the Maumee river. President Blessing is looking forward to breaking her fishing record—a catch of seven. Betty Boyer, efficient senior life saver is hoping that it is warm enough to go swimming. Members that are planning on going are: Ione Blessing, Elizabeth Frost, and Mabel Grauer, Betty Boyer, Elizabeth Artz, Dorothy Chaney, Dorothy Zeig and ten alumni members: Genevieve Swain, and Thelma Dillinger, also the two faculty sponsors. Misses Carolyn Shaw and Emily Hartman.

Elizabeth Frost and Elizabeth Artz, new vice president are making the plans for the week-end.

T. U. Entertains B. G. With Spring Play Day

The Women's Athletic Association of Toledo University entertained Bowling Green's W. A. A. last Friday, May 10, 1935. Baseball, archery, and tennis were played after which dinner was served to both groups in the new union building. Among those that attended from Bowling Green were: Mabel Grauer, Elizabeth Frost, Ione Blessing, Edna Mae Pierce, Virginia Pollock, Elizabeth Artz, Betty Boyer, Thais Novis, Ellen Rae Guerrin, Lucille Perrin, Ethel Sealcott, Elizabeth Shumaker, and faculty members, Misses Carolyn Shaw, Emily Hartman and Elsie Lorenz.

COUNTRY CLUB FORMAL TO BE "SURPRISE AFFAIR" OF YEAR

Everybody has been wondering about the big "Surprise Affair" scheduled for Friday, May 31st, mentioned in the last issue. The cat is out of the bag! It's to be a "Country Club Formal". Where? Right in our own Physical Education building (also known as the Men's Gym). It is to be a sport formal with summery clothes the vogue. Men will probably be wearing white flannels with dark coats or some such regalia, while the ladies will be swishing around in long organdies or other afternoon dresses. This is not, however, to be a fashion parade. Come to spend an evening of dancing at the "Country Club". There will also be other diversions (more surprise!) We want everyone to come and enjoy themselves.

Make your plans now. This dance will be the last all-college Formal and probably the last all-college dance of any kind. As has been stated, the affair is something

LAS AMIGAS DANCE

Las Amigas presented its seventh annual spring formal Saturday evening, May 11 in the Women's Gym. For the evening the gym was converted into a beautiful garden enclosed by a white picket fence while blossoms intermingled in the trellises and tree branches hung from above. You could wander to one end of the garden to a pool and here also punch was served from small tables. Beginning at nine o'clock, Larry DeVaney and his Collegians played a program of twelve dances while about fifty couples, including many alumnae, danced.

In the receiving line were Miss Edna Hedrick, Miss Grace Wills, Mrs. Maude Sharp, Miss Harriet Hayward, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jordon, and Miss Edna Arn, sorority president, with her escort, Mr. Lewis Miller.

Five Sister Flashes

The Five Sister Sorority is happy to announce two new members formally initiated last Tuesday night, namely Rita Kerruish and Virginia Betz.

Shatzel Hall News

Most of the girls from Shatzel Hall went home over the week-end, since Sunday was Mother's Day.

Three of Shatzel girls were quite fortunate. They have secured positions for next year. But there are many more girls who will secure positions a little later. Good luck to all of you prospective teachers!

Shatzel Hall girls entertained nine girls over the week-end. These girls were from Ohio University at Athens and from Kent State College attending the Wesley League conference from Friday to Sunday.

novel and the success of this event will, no doubt, determine whether it will be repeated in the future. Since we are about to become a university, we cannot afford to remain in the rut of doing the same things year in and year out. Progress demands a trial of the new and the different. Obviously, cooperation is necessary. In this case of an all-school affair, a good attendance is necessary. It can not be successful with a mere handful of students—everyone should be there.

Extensive plans have been made, and it will be more than worth the admission price of 50 cents per couple. At a neighboring school, the charge for a similar affair is about twice as much. We have planned closely so that it might be possible for you to attend. Tickets will be on sale May Day. Save some of your money and get your dates in the mean time. See you at the "club".

SENIOR PREPARES A LECTURE IN LITERATURE

Gerald Ernest, who graduates this year from the course in Modern Literature, has made a study of those books whose effort it is to popularize science. He finds that the most successful books which give in popular form scientific principles are "When Worlds Collide" and "After Worlds Collide" by Phillip Wylie.

In connection with his study Mr. Ernest has prepared a set of slides to be used with a lecture before public school or general group. The lecture was given before the class in Modern Literature last week. This lecture is the first tangible result of an effort to find in the field of literature developments of certain special interests not a part of belles lettres.

BOWLING GREEN BOY WRITES PRIZE ESSAY

John David, a member of the seventh grade A class in the Bowling Green Junior High School, wrote an essay on Americanism which won for him a trip to Washington. While there, this gifted young man had the pleasure of seeing and hearing the King Fish carp, and of seeing him loudly and informally scored by the Senator from Massachusetts. Also, John saw a motion passed to have his essay entered into the minutes of the House. He has received a copy of the Congressional Digest containing a copy of his essay since he returned.

Those of us who beat the academic air with moth wings, are prone to take scant notice of earlier metamorphic forms. And it is merely to suggest the promise and effectiveness which are shown in those younger that this article is written.

Training School Pupils Honored

In a recent issue of the Sentinel Tribune the following local news item was found:

"Twelve members of the Bowling Green High School Senior class have been awarded memberships in a national organization founded several years ago by the department of secondary school principles of the National Education Association The merit of the organization is comparable to the Phi Beta Kappa rating of college students.

The students are George Beatty, Margaret Zaugg, Janet Ronk, Betty McKinnis, Esther Strohl, Dorothy Robertson, Robert Baron, Stanley Bortel, Josephine Mercer, Viola Musser and Dudley Avery.

This account is of special interest here because the first eight named received their grade school training in the Campus Training School. Five of the eight have been members of the college since kindergarten days and will return to the college next fall.

Two of these honor students, George Beattie and Margaret Zaugg, are children of the faculty. Janet Ronk is the daughter of Randolph Ronk, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

From the Training School

Preparations for a visit of the mothers of the first grade children is now under way. The children are decorating plates and napkins for the party. They have planted nasturtiums in little green pots and will use them for favors.

Miss Pigg has been ill since last Thursday and has had Mrs. Hoppes teach in her place.

Gardening has busied everyone in the Training School from the Kindergarten on up. Critics and student teachers also participate. Under the direction of Prof. Beattie, carrots, lettuce, radishes and onions are planted by each in his own plot. This work creates a taste for agriculture which shows results in home gardens.

WHEAT AND CHAFF

"Not to contradict and confute nor to read and take for granted, but to weigh and consider." That gem of wisdom inscribed on the front of our library will soon be hidden from view when the oak trees put forth their leaves. Suggestion—Either cut down the trees or post a signboard bearing this legend in some conspicuous place on the campus so that all may read and profit thereby.

Sue Holman, the poetic reporter of Williams Hall, bemoans the fact that so many college students are peeved to find their names in the weekly poem. What poor sports some mortals be.

We wonder who stuffed the Bee Gee News ballot box with slips signed Augusta Wind, O. D. Schurtz, Lena Gainster and nearly a bushel of others equally amusing? The student help enjoyed sorting the wheat from the chaff.

Some FERA projects have been reorganized lately. There are now seventeen students working on the buildings and grounds for Mr. Ronk and Coach Steller. The track and tennis courts should be in first class condition at all times, providing the weatherman cooperates.

Spring is here, no matter what you may think. Botany classes have visited the Waggoner Heronery despite the cold, and Dale Kellogg was out bird hunting, too. Don't be misled by such tokens—Girls wore white shoes on the campus during February.

Most devoted couple in the Senior class, Jim Deter and Rachel Conn. Only five more weeks to plight your troth Jim. Prof. Carmichael still obliges former students at low rates. Other love birds please note.

We suggest that masculine students who infest the dormitories be given special privileges due them as good customers. First in line, Carl Stephens, Abe Martin, and Ace Mann. Students send in names for honorable mention.

The scholarship tests caused many former students to return to the college. They are now high school teachers and brought their brilliant students here for the elimination and incidentally to show them around the place.

On the evening of May 8, Quill-Type met at the home of Professor Knepper for a social-business meeting. Nominations were made for officers for next year and it was decided to have the election at the annual picnic on May 29.

After the business was transacted the group went out doors where they toasted marshmallows and ate the delicious refreshments served by Mrs. Knepper. It is hoped by everyone that Professor Knepper makes this an annual affair.

Plans are being made for the open meeting to be held in the auditorium of the Practical Arts building on May 22. The program promises to be very entertaining for the best talent of the Club has been selected for this occasion.

TOLEDO U. WINS TRACK MEET

Bowling Green Cinder-Men Take Second Place

The Toledo University Rockets nosed out the Falcons in a thrilling track meet Saturday afternoon. The Rockets were the heavy favorites to retain the title that they won last year. Six teams competed in the ninth annual Northwestern Ohio invitational college meet. The Rockets and Falcons dominated the meet as no serious competition was offered by the other teams. The Rockets scored 75 1-10 points to win while the Falcons garnered 70 3-5 points to take second. Heidelberg scored 37 3-5, Wittenberg, 20 1-10, Bluffton, 17, and Defiance 16 3-5.

Six records were smashed and one tied as the athletes competed under perfect weather.

The meet was featured by the marvelous track performance of John Hartman, the Falcon star, who smashed two records and tied one. Hartman scored 22½ points of his teams 70 3-5. Hartman broke records in the 220 yard dash and the high hurdles and missed by a fraction of a second of tying the low hurdle record. Hartman tied the record in the 100 yard dash. In the high hurdles, he was timed in :16 flat and in the 220 yard dash he put up a new mark of :22.3. His time in the 100 was :10.2 and in the low hurdles :26.5 and to make it a full day he took a second in the pole vault.

Hudick, of Toledo U, broke the half mile record with a mark of 2:04.6. The Falcon relay team of Conrad, Myers, Overmier, and Daniels, had little trouble in winning the mile relay and broke the old record with a new time of 3:34.6.

In the field events, Vornholt, of Heidelberg, split the javelin mark with a throw of 189 ft 3¼ inch. Another Heidelberg athlete set a new pole vault record when Freece went over the bar at 11 ft, 10¼ in.

The strong Rocket team took six firsts and eight seconds to pile up a big advantage over the Falcons whose points were scored out side of Hartman's firsts, in taking second, thirds and fourths.

The Rockets have two fine distance men in DeShelter and Hullenkremer, who took first and second respectively in both the one and two mile runs. Freece, of Heidelberg, after winning the pole vault attempted to clear 12 feet and his try was successfully, although it looked like the bar would fall off after he touched it in going over.

The Rockets and Falcons have fine track teams and Northwestern Ohio will be well represented in the Ohio Conference track meet at Wooster on May 24 and 25.
